A MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

This I.D.E.A.S. Policy (Inclusion, Diversity, Equity, & Accessibility) Policy has been prepared to act as a guide and a source of information for all residents, business owners, and visitors. As one of the most diverse cities in this nation and one of the safest cities in the Northeast, the City of Stamford has a unique opportunity to witness the magic that happens when people feel included and feel safe. Our greatest source of pride and strength as a city comes from the diversity of our residents, businesses, and visitors.

As Mayor, I am committed to combatting hate, extremism, and bigotry. As a City we need to work together to ensure that we all are doing our part to build a more inclusive, equitable, accessible, and vibrant community where everyone can thrive. Our nation has faced an increase in hate-based violence and harassment – hate crimes rose by an alarming six percent in 2020, according to the latest FBI data, the highest level reported in the last 12 years; and antisemitic incidents remain at historic levels nationwide.

Every day, we make more progress in ensuring that we continuously find a way to make our City a welcoming place to live, work, and play.

We affirm that our differences make us stronger, smarter, and more innovative.

We thank you for taking the time to read and adhere to playing your part to ensure we as a City live true to our vision, mission and values.

CITY-WIDE VISION: Continue to build an inclusive, equitable, vibrant, accessible, and innovative city where everyone can thrive.

ORGANIZATIONAL VISION: To create a city government where employees are recognized, valued, inspired, and empowered to solve problems and deliver excellent services to the residents of Stamford.

MISSION: Implement a shared vision for a more equitable, inclusive, and accessible city for all, recognizing the value of diversity in every aspect of its municipal activities, boards and institutions; including appropriate advocacy.

VALUES: Integrity, Transparency, Respect, Compassion, Innovation, Service Mindset, Commitment to Excellence.

I.D.E.A.S. Policy for City of Stamford

Introduction

As one of the most diverse cities in the nation, the City of Stamford is committed to fostering and cultivating a culture of inclusion, diversity, equity, and accessibility. By always striving to walk together in harmony, we know that we can take tremendous steps. The City of Stamford operates as an inclusive government working together to better understand and meet the needs of the workforce (our employees), the workplace (our culture) and the marketplace (our businesses and all public spaces, and facilities). The office of Inclusion, Diversity, Equity, and Accessibility Strategies for Stamford (I.D.E.A.S.) is being intentional and deliberate to make sure the City is responsive to its employees, residents, business owners, and visitors in equitable, inclusive, and accessible ways. This includes the City of Stamford's zero tolerance for all types of hate against any individual or group. Although our mission may not be easy, we are committed to putting in the work and resources to make meaningful change.

Our diverse community is one of our most valuable assets. We affirm that our differences make us stronger, smarter, and more innovative. The collective sum of the individual differences, life experiences, knowledge, innovation, self-expression, unique capabilities, and talent that our City shares with each other shapes our kind and vibrant culture. As illustrated in the image on this page labeled, "Dimensions of Diversity", the City of Stamford embraces the differences in age, color, disability, ethnicity, family or marital status, gender identity or expression, language, national origin, physical and mental ability, political affiliation, race, religion, sexual orientation, socio-economic statues, veteran status, and any other characteristics that make our employees, residents, business owners or visitors unique.

It is our priority to develop, model, and implement processes that will help make significant progress toward hiring a workforce that reflects Stamford's diversity while simultaneously ensuring the workplace is inclusive. It is important for every employee to know their opinion and experience matter. We want all employees to feel like they belong and are motivated to develop their skillsets to rise to their potential. Employees who feel included and understand how their contributions add value are more eager to collaborate in decision making, problem solving, and conflict resolution. This leads to better customer service and outcomes.

The efforts won't stop there. Through this I.D.E.A.S. Policy for Stamford and supporting practices, we aim to ensure that everyone has access to the plethora of resources, career opportunities, transportation, and the benefits of quality parks, recreation, and any public facility. Our goal is to always execute with excellence. This policy is for all, with a special emphasis on those groups who historically have not been intentionally included - those with a physical or cognitive disability, the LGBT (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender) community, non-white racial and ethnic groups, and new Americans, or refugees and immigrants. The City of Stamford will lead by example of the "Platinum Rule: treat people the way they want to be treated".

The City of Stamford defines I.D.E.A.S. as:

a call to action that shapes the culture of our agencies, departments, boards, INCLODIMINISSIONS, public spaces, places, facilities, and programs.

DIVERSITY: the presence and acceptance of differences and the intersectionality of all dimensions of those differences.

This policy ensures that:

- Regardless of location, role, or department, all employees are expected to conduct business with excellence, kindness, compassion, expedience, and accuracy.
- All residents, business owners, employees, and elected officials across all agencies, departments, boards and commissions are expected to act with inclusive behaviors in any public spaces, places, facilities, and programs that the City manages.

- Anyone utilizing City of Stamford facilities, programs, and services should have equitable and appropriate access regardless of ability, race, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, mental or physical ability, or country of origin.

- The City of Stamford has a zero tolerance for hate towards any person or group.

This policy applies to all business owners, employees, community members, and people visiting any public sites in the city of Stamford.

Training

City of Stamford will offer professional development training opportunities to all employees and volunteers throughout the departments, agencies, boards, and commissions. Training opportunities will be a combination of both mandatory and self-elected. Wherever appropriate and possible, inclusion, diversity, equity, and accessibility will be woven into the training modules to help further the competencies needed to have a kind, welcoming and belonging feeling for all. Training programs will be based on credible research and delivered by qualified City of Stamford personnel or a third-party vendor. All new employees and members of boards and commissions will be required to participate in a series of mandatory training to ensure knowledge, tools, resources, and expectations are shared.

City of Stamford will periodically offer select diversity, equity, and inclusion training to small businesses and not-for-profit organizations. As one of the most diverse cities in the nation, we have a moral obligation to drive awareness and provide resources to foster and support a kind, equitable, and inclusive culture.
